March 23rd, 2017

RALLYLEGEND MOVES TO A NEW DATE: FROM 19th TO 22nd OCTOBER, 2017

Luis Moya will be Rallylegend official ambassador

The Organizers working on a new format

Republic of San Marino. New logistical and organizational needs, combined with the opportunity to avoid coincidences and give the opportunity to many fans not to lose the awaited event. For this reason, and after a thorough reflection, Rallylegend Organizers decided to postpone the San Marino event to a new date: October 19th to 22nd, 2017. A week later, in practice, with respect to the originally established date.

In addition, Rallylegend organizing staff has a new member: Luis Moya. The Spanish co driver is a "new entry" of great prestige: world rally champion in 1990 and 1992 with Carlos Sainz, now a great supporter and an expert of Rallylegend. His role will be "ambassador" of San Marino event in the world and in the World Rally Championship. Thanks to the great respect he has in the environment and his familiarity with many champions of yesterday and today, he will be an important bridge to drivers and teams.

The organizing team is also working on a 2017 format full of new features. The event will last four days, but with a slimmer and more attractive program. The last day will be more public oriented with activities where the protagonists will be present fans.
