THE CAUSE IS THE DATE OVERLAP WITH THE WORLD RALLY ITALIA SARDEGNA
MOVED TO OCTOBER 8 TO 11

Republic of San Marino. Rallylegend 2020 moves up to the days from Thursday 1 to Sunday 4 October. One week before its original scheduled date.

Incessant cancellations and repositioning of events at international level are creating, since various weeks, great agitation in the calendars of several rally championships, World Rally Championship included. The latest change, announced today in Cagliari, involves Rally Italia Sardegna that moves to 8 to 11 October, a date traditionally occupied by Rallylegend.

After a quick but in-depth evaluation, having consulted partners, sponsors and "guest stars" who have confirmed their will to be present anyway, the Organizers of Rallylegend decided to bring the event one week forward, thus moving to the weekend 1 to 4 October 2020.

M-Sport and Michelin have already confirmed their presence with the Ford Fiesta WRC "Plus" and their official drivers in this new date. Same for Ken Block that will be at Rallylegend in the weekend from 1 to 4 October.

"A situation that, only a few weeks before the event, forces us to reconsider Rallylegend arrangement that was already being defined - the Organizers explain - We could not do otherwise, but as always, we will do our best to make this edition of Rallylegend even more rich and seductive. We already have some new ideas in mind...".
